

THE BIG CROWD

Agree in Pronouncing the Keynote Speech a Great
One

Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge in Glowing Terms Compliment Our Favorite Son.

Rush county today feels proud of the distinguished congressman who lives within her borders and appreciates the favorable comment of the press and the people over the entire State, which has been so general for several days past.

Never before in the history of the Republican party was a more forcible, pleasing and eloquent speech delivered to a convention. Senators Beveridge and Fairbanks were not slow to pronounce it one of the greatest, Senator Fairbanks saying: "I feel that it should be my first duty, as it is my first pleasure, to congratulate your chairman and to convey to him the thanks of this magnificent audience for the splendid address he has given us. I feel it is due Mr. Watson to say that I regard his address as one of the greatest, most eloquent and best speeches that has ever been delivered in this historic edifice."

This tribute from the senior senator provoked a demonstration so prolonged that Mr. Watson was compelled to rise and bow his acknowledgements.

At Indianapolis Tuesday and Wednesday, Republicans from every Congressional district in Indiana pursued "Our Jim" where ever he chanced to be, "just to shake hands with him."

It was with much difficulty that chairman Goodrich and other personal friends of Watson prevented a plan, by several county chairmen to spring the man of the hour for Governor, and vote their county for him, and many Republicans, some living in districts where they are likely to have a candidate for United States Senator themselves, in case Senator Fairbanks should be nominated for vice President, were very active in proclaiming to the people their preference for Mr. Watson for the place.

While Mr. Watson has never indicated to any one a desire to go to the Senate, it is evident from his brilliant record in Congress that he would be a power in the Senate, and if Senator Fairbanks should go on the ticket with President Roosevelt, Rush county and the sixth district will no doubt enthusiastically support Mr. Watson for the place, and, encouraged by the expressions of preference for Mr. Watson now being heard all over the State, it seems as though the place might easily be secured for him. "Senator Watson" would sound all right and Senators Beveridge and Watson would ably represent one of the greatest States of the Union.

The citizens of Rush county feel the great honor that our distinguished citizen has won for himself and for his county, and are grateful and wish for the young Congressman much greater things.

ANOTHER RUNAWAY

Mart V. Spivey Escapes With Scarcely Any Injury.

Mart V. Spivey was driving Will Havens' family horse about four miles north of this city, when he met an automobile, which frightened the horse and caused it to wheel around upsetting the buggy, after which the horse started to run and jumped a fence but the buggy did not go over.

Mr. Spivey clung to the lines and assisted by the buggy held the horse, preventing any further damage.

Mr. Spivey escaped comparatively unhurt, but it was considered a luck accident.

The horse is a gentle one ordinarily, but had not been driven much, and was not used to meeting autos. The buggy was not badly damaged, and the horse was not hurt.

THE BATTE CRY

Our Country Expects Evrey Man
to do His Duty.

[Indianapolis Journal.]

The address as a whole was a succession of climaxes, but in the peroration, the eloquent Representative soared to even greater heights. Alluding to battle of Trafalgar and Lord Nelson's admonition to his men, "Our country expects every man to do his duty," Mr. Watson concluded:

"That was all he said, but it was an inspiration that fired the heart and nerved the arm of every man. And on the next day, above the swish of the ocean, above the roar of the battle above the flash of the conflict, while the sea was red and the waves were strewn with the wreck, above it all, that command rang in the ear and heart of every man as clear as a bugle call. 'Our country expects every man to do his duty.'"

"Who can doubt that today Lincoln, Grant and Hayes and Garfield and McKinley and Morton and Blaine and Hanna, and all our mighty dead are looking down upon us from their places in the sky, and whispering to us that same fervent appeal, 'Our country expects every man to do his duty?' And under God, that duty shall be done."

FOR DAMAGES

Charles Fearnaught Sues the Indianapolis Street Railway.

Claims to have Sustained Permanent Personal Injuries—
Jury Impannelled.

The case of Charles Fearnaught against the Indianapolis Street Railway company for $25,000 damages began in court this morning before Judge Morris and a jury.

The case is one of considerable importance and came to this county on a change of venue. It was first brought in Marion county, then changed to Hancock, and from Hancock here, each side taking a change.

Mr. Fearnaught claims to be permanently injured by being struck by a car at the corner of the Grand hotel in Indianapolis.

He, accompanied by his wife and son, was driving along the street near the hotel when a street car turned the corner there and the front truck made the turn while those in the rear remained on the main track, throwing the car into the carriage, mashing it up considerably and injuring the plaintiff.

Mason & Jackson, of Greenfield, and Attorney Bell, of the firm of Kern & Bell, of Indianapolis, are representing the plaintiff, and Mr. Latta, of Latta & Bruce, of Indianapolis, and Smith, Cambern & Smith, of this city, are representing the company.

The jury is made up of the following men:

Elmer Hume, Ezekiel Priest, J. P. Parrish, J. L. Williamson, Nathan Arbuckle, Geo. W. Mull, Jabez Winship, Geo. H. Havens, Charles Cline, Elijah Kirkpatrick, Frank Jarrell, Manford Stevens.

Mr. Fearnaught is a furniture dealer in Indianapolis. Quite a number of witnesses came from that city today to testify in the case. The trial and argument of the case will no doubt require several days.

Domestic: "Don't you want to go out this afternoon, Mrs. Manning?"

Mistress: "Yes, Mary, I should like to go out; but I am afraid it will incommode you."

Domestic: "Oh, never mind me marm; it's so long since you've had an afternoon off I must insist that you take one today. But be sure and come home early. I may have callers, you know, and I shall want somebody to tend the door."

To Shut Up or Pay Up? That Is the Question

By Mrs. FRANK LESLIE

It is better to shut up or pay up?

Households are there where sordid questions of want are not raised, since money is abundant and the luxuries of life are assured. But few people nowadays feel contented to follow Paul's edict, "Having food and raiment, therewith be content," not even when houses and bank books are added, for these modern rebels, especially the female half of them, contend that THE LUXURIES OF ONE AGE ARE THE NECESSITIES OF THE NEXT, and that so far from being content with food and raiment, houses and bank books, they count all those as naught and less than naught if they are not accompanied by sympathy, delicate consideration, harmony of temper and taste, and that peace and sweet content only to be found in CONGENIAL companionship.

These women, having married an ideal hero of their own imagining, and suddenly waking to the consciousness that they have played upon themselves just such a trick as did Titania when she crowned an ass' head with flowers, when their "dream of bliss" all of a sudden resolves itself into an "eternity of woe," naturally seek to EASE THE SHOCK of the discovery by an outcry more or less audible, and it is very natural that they should.

DO YOU HAPPEN TO KNOW THAT THE SURGEONS AVER THE DEADLY EFFECTS OF PAIN TO BE VERY MUCH MITIGATED BY OUTCRIES? ONE OF THE MOST DIABOLICAL REFINEMENTS OF TORTURE IN THE INQUISITION WAS TO GAG THE VICTIM SO THAT HE REMAINED PERFORCE MUTE. MEN HAVE THUS DIED UNDER SUFFERING THEY MIGHT HAVE SUSTAINED HAD NATURE BEEN ALLOWED HER FREE COURSE.

And so with the woman who feels that life has become too complex and too painful to be governed by the motto, "Mum's the word." Matters have come to such a head with her that the question now is, CAN I pay up, and if I cannot WHAT THEN? Why, the alternative is shut up, and most women, some of them with full intention, and some of them with the defensive instinct that makes even a dove peck at the cruel hand that squeezes it, will begin the process of paying up by telling their causes of complaint and putting their intimate enemy to an open shame. I say OPEN, for it is sure to become so, even though at first the secret is only breathed in the ear of an intimate friend.

Some cynic inquires, "Why should you expect your friend to keep your secret when you could not keep it yourself?" And why, indeed?

Perhaps it is not only told to one intimate friend; perhaps it is to several—to everybody, to the newspapers, to the divorce court. In either way or in all ways IT EFFECTS ITS PURPOSE, and the unhappy and wronged wife—weak and timid though she is—PAYS UP her tyrant.

Do you blame her?
HAVING SHUT UP AS LONG AS SHE WAS ABLE, IS SHE NOT RIGHT TO PAY UP IN THE END? I THINK SO.

RUSH COUNTY

Occupied Prominent Place in Prominent State Convention

Stood for the Candidates Presented by Our District—Plenty of Seats—Other Notes.

Rush county was a prominent factor in the recent State convention and its vote was watched closely on every ballot, but on Lieutenant Governor and Reporter, their vote was solid each time for Sixth district candidates.

Rush county organized by electing Elijah Oldham chairman of the delegation and Joseph Cowing secretary. Elijah Oldham and Thos. K. Mull were selected as members of the committee that met to select the men for committee places from the Sixth district.

The State committee was very liberal to Rush county and all the delegates had tickets and county chairman Frazee had enough to admit every Republican who applied for a ticket and had some left over at the end of the session. The Republican had several seats in the Press department.

Many were surprised at Rush county's vote on Governor, twelve being for Hanley and one for Taylor, but changes on figures made in other counties were just as surprising.

Several Rush county men were active in assisting Hanly and Taylor in their campaign, and all rendered Frank Smith and Perry Newby all the assistance in their power and stayed with them throughout the balloting.

When L. P. Newby arose to second the nomination of Miller, he said:

"Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the convention: I say at this time that there are but two men in this hall who are happier than I am—J. Frank Hanly and Hugh T. Miller. I want to thank my loyal friends, who have stood by me, and especially the Republican press of Indiana (I lay emphasis on Republican), which was practically a unit for my nomination. I have been a victim of unwarranted criticism which contributed to my defeat; but none of that criticism can be laid at the door of Hugh T. Miller, who conducted a clean, gentlemanly campaign. My defeat will not lessen my zeal for the party, and I will be found in the future, as for twenty years in the past, on the firing line fighting for the principles of Republicanism. I congratulate my victorious opponent, and concur in Mr. Ball's motion to make his nomination unanimous. I thank you."

When Frank Smith, of Brookville, came forward to perform a like duty in the race for Reporter of the Supreme Court, he complimented Mr. Self who won the race, and the other candidates upon their cordial treatment, and among other things said, "I have thought for several weeks that Self would be nominated, but hoped that instead of being 'G. W.' it would be 'M. Y.'"

Rush county contributed about fifty of the crowd of Republicans who attended, and the expression "All of Rush county must be here" was not uncommon.

A CLEAR STATEMENT

Russian General Staff Outlines Scope of Present Operations.

The Plan of the Czar's Forces Is to Continually Harrass the Little Brown Men.

Paris, April 28.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Journal reports that a Russian submarine has sunk a Japanese transport which was conveying 600 men to Korea and that all the troops were lost.

Liao Yang, April 28.—The Japanese troops which crossed the Yalu north of Tchangdjou charged, during the night of April 26-27, the Russian position near Lizavena, a village on the Manchurian bank of the Yalu. They were repulsed, but their loss is not known. Two gunboats steamed up the river to the support of the Japanese, when a Russian field battery at Amisan opened upon them, resulting in a duel which lasted for twenty minutes. The Russian fire was too hot and the gunboats were forced to turn and steam out of range. The Japanese were facilitated in crossing by their occupation of the Island of Samalinda.

Irkutsk, Siberia, April 28.—The Japanese have blown up a portion of the railway at Khatlar.

St. Petersburg, April 28.—Disappointment prevails in St. Petersburg that no official dispatches giving details of the operations on the Yalu river have yet been made public. The press dispatches are so meager as to becloud rather than enlighten the people, who are hourly awaiting news.

The general staff has given out the following clear statement of the situation:

"Before beginning the passage of the Yalu the Japanese evidently completed the concentration of the armies along the river, commanded by Generals Kuroki and Oku. Each army is composed of three divisions and three reserve brigades. The total force is 100,000. The Russians on the Manchurian bank of the river are inferior in strength.

"Having perfected the essential preparations, the Japanese, without waste of time, commenced the passage of the river and the Russians realized that it would be impossible to prevent their crossing. The Japanese front extended from Wiju as far as Pick Tong, over eighty miles. We faced the possibility that they would cross at a score of places and all we could hope was to harass and impede the crossing, for every day gained enabled us to push our preparations and bring up more men.

"There are only two instances in history where an army was unable to cross a river—that of Napoleon at Aspern and that of Prince Eugene of Savoy at Lech. Both failed because of floods. The Yalu proved no exception to the established rule.

"We know that the Japanese crossed at least two points. Their first attempt to force a passage near Chand Che Kow, twenty miles above Wiju, near Siaopoussikhe, on the Poussikhe, a tributary of the Yalu, was unsuccessful. This is important because a road leads from Siaopoussikhe, northeast to Kwan Tien, which commands one of the roads to Mukden.

"It is evident that the Japanese devoted most of their attention to crossing near Wiju. The river here is divided into several channels by islands, the largest of which is Samalindo. Above and below Wiju the river was bridged at three points.

"Up the stream near Sindiaou the Japanese were watched by a small detachment of Cossacks, but the enemy was practically unopposed. At Turenchen, lower down, our outposts directed a fire from a field-piece so successfully that they destroyed the moorings and wrecked the pontoons. The enemy was thrown into disorder and suffered considerable loss. Still further down the stream the Japanese proceeded to make a third attempt at crossing.

"We do not think that the Japanese will attempt to land at Takushan or Tatung Kau now that they have crossed the Yalu. The object of such landings has been to cause a diversion so as to enable the Japanese to cross the river. Takushan is not a good strategic point. The road leading therefrom is bad and troops could only be supplied with great difficulty.

"With regard to future operations, we cannot speak. The Russians will not show their hand at this stage, but will continually harass the enemy, choosing their own time for a battle."

A military expert who is particularly impressed with the Japanese crossing near Siaopoussikhe, said that the use of the road therefrom would enable the enemy not only to march upon Mukden, but to outflank the Russian position at Feng Huan Cheng.

No definite news has been received regarding the whereabouts of the Vladivostok squadron, but the indications are that it has regained the harbor.

HARMONY.

The illustrations of the harmony that does not exist in the Democratic party are so numerous that pages might be filled with them, but here is a particularly pertinent one that deserves consideration by itself. Mr. Bryan's paper, the Commoner, says, for instance:

"If organized greed is to dominate the Democratic party, then Grover Cleveland more than any other person—(Democrat or Republican)—would deserve to be the standard-bearer. Then, with J. Pierpont Morgan as chairman of the national committee, and Rockefeller as treasurer, the party could expect the cordial support of the New York World, the Brooklyn Eagle, the Chicago Chronicle and the Nashville American again.

"It is time to organize to save the party from the designs of the plutocracy."

On the other hand the Chicago Chronicle, bearing upon the Hearst movement, which seems to have Mr. Bryan's favorable consideration if not indeed his direct support, says:

"There is one way and one way only by which the nominee, whoever he may be, and the party itself may escape this blight, and that is by taking action early in the proceedings which will serve as a notice to the purchased Hearst followers that the self-respecting Democrats of the country will not countenance them. The nomination of Grover Cleveland, whether he wishes it or not, seems to be called for both by the situation within the Democratic party and the logic of events in the republic at large."

An Irishman had been tarred and feathered and was being ridden out of town on a rail." The rail hurt.

"Begorra," said the Irishman, "if it wasn't for the honor of the thing, I'd rather walk."

Vote for the party that STANDS
 ON ITS RECORD.

The Republican candidates for councilmen are in favor of IMPROVE-MENT WITHIN THE LIMITS OF THE CITY'S MEANS, AND WITH-
 OUT GRAFT.

Indianapolis, April 28.—Now that the Republican convention is all over a review is being taken of how things were done. There is no doubt in the minds of those who were close observers that the three opponents of Hanly suffered for lack of organization. That an old-timer like W. L.
 Taylor should have overlooked such an important detail was beyond the comprehension of the party leaders with whom he has been actively associated,
 yet it is conceded by his friends that he had practically no organization whatever. It is generally admitted by politicians that Taylor took too much for granted when in going from county to county the politicians told him they were for him. He did not stop to organize. Hanly, on the other hand, pursued a campaign of organization which kept him right at the front from the start. Sayre and Penfield also suffered from lack of organization, and the only chance they had of winning at any stage was a revolt from Hanly. An example of what organization will do for a candidate who was regarded as an outsider at the start, may be noted in the case of Hugh Th. Miller, who owes his nomination for lieutenant governor largely to the adroit way his forces were handled.

A Judge and Not a Soldier.
 London, April 28.—A Tokio correspondent says that one of the Japanese spies shot by the Russians at Mukden was identified as Sondey, a Japanese judge, and not a military man, as has been stated.

Vote for IMPROVEMENT WITH-
 OUT GRAFT.

The Jack dodges so gracefully that we give them another chance to answer our question.

The writer of the editorials for the Republican says "we" because WE write them OURSELVES.

The editor of the Republican does not seem to be so fortunate as our contemporary and neighbor, and we are obliged to write OUR OWN EDI-TORIALS.

The Jacksonian harps on the increase in tax rates and the increase in valuation too. This is another effort to mislead the people. How did the men who made the tax levy know that the valuation would be raised also?

The Jack still talks about the "ring organ," but the ring organ never COUNTED ANYONE "out" after
 he was RIGHTFULLY AND FAIR-LY NOMINATED for Marshal.

Don't forget voters, that the cases
 in court to enjoin the gas companies from increasing rates were brought by a REPUBLICAN COUNCIL. Don't forget that the rates were raised to where they are now by a DEMO-CRATIC COUNCIL. Which then, fellow Republicans, is the most tangible evidence of what we can expect,
 what they PROMISE YOU, or what they HAVE REALLY DONE.

In attempting to answer the question put to the Jacksonian by the Republican the Jack says much of "rings" and "machine" and the like,
 and says that the Democratic party have ALWAYS passed resolutions and that is why they passed them at the last city convention. The Republican has contended from the beginning that they ALWAYS "passed" RESO-LUTIONS and PROMISES, but in order to get the Jack to answer the real question which up to this time they have artfully dodged, we amend our question and put it at them once more. WHY DO THE DEMO-CRATS ALWAYS PASS RESOLU-TIONS?

The Jacksonian challenges the right of the editor of the Republican to say anything about city affairs, but for his information we will say that our right of franchise will be exercised next Tuesday and will probably be just as effective as his. Everyone who has been reading both papers knows and will readily admit that the Republican is doing more to boom
 the city and herald its merits than any other paper ever did in the same space of time. The effort by the Jacksonian to prejudice the people against any suggestion the Republican might make will not meet with the approval of the masses, because the people of Rushville, like the people of any other progressive city, WEL-COME NEW CITIZENS and NEW ENTERPRISES to locate within its borders.

Indianapolis, April 28.—Frank Hanly, who received the Republican nomination for governor yesterday, is a real "son of the soil." Twenty years ago he was a ditcher doing hard manual labor by day and educating himself at night. He is forty-one and is perhaps the youngest man to receive the nomination for governor at the hands of the Republicans of Indiana.
 He was born in Champaign county, Illinois, and went to school but three months. He was an indefatigable student, however, and he is now one of the leading lawyers of northern Indiana. His first party service was in 1890, when he was elected to the state senate, where he remained two terms.
 He was a member of congress one term and lacked but five votes in the Republican caucus six years ago of being able to land in the United States senate. He is one of the most popular and effective campaigners in the state
 and is one of the shrewdest organizers.
 One of the first to congratulate him yesterday was Senator Albert J. Beveridge, who defeated him for the senate. Hanly expects to make a thorough canvass of the state.

It is now time to write some of the inside history of the Republican state convention, and the local correspondents will probably be at it for a long time before the subject is exhausted.
 It was not generally known until after the convention how well Hanly's forces were managed. H. S. Starr of Richmond, one of the shrewdest politicians in Indiana, was behind the Hanly guns all the time with Union Banner Hunt, the well-known Winchester leader, yet there were many newspaper men who did not know where Starr stood. Starr, Hunt, Deputy Auditor of State Billheimer, John McCordle of New Richmond, and a few others were lining up the forces while Hanly was in his headquarters shaking hands with the delegates. It is known now that Hanly's managers had not planned to win on the first ballot. That they did so, however, was no great surprise, as they had figured the situation very closely and were confident that he had the votes to win at any time. Their idea was to get near the mark on the first and to go over on the second, but the stampede headed them off.

Indianapolis, April 28.—The second day's proceedings of the Indiana State Republican convention were marked by some extraordinary scenes, and Tomlinson hall was crowded probably as never before. The long existing interest in the several contests before the convention had given all classes a keen desire to witness the proceedings, and long before Chairman Watson called the convention to order at 9 o'clock every point and coign of vantage in the great hall was occupied.
 From the first moment the enthusiasm of the convention was apparent and culminated for the first time in the extraordinary and unanimous nomination of Frank Hanly for governor, upon the withdrawal of the other candidates, when such a furore as has not been witnessed in that hall for years ensued.

The convention was called to order
 at 9:05 o'clock by Chairman Watson,
 who at once plunged into the business of the day. The report of the committee on credentials being adopted, the resolutions committee reported through its chairman, Ward H. Watson of Charlestown, and the report was adopted. The several planks of the party's platform were received with much enthusiasm.

At this point Chairman Watson
 handed the gavel over to Governor Durbin, who called for nominations
 for the offices for which no contest
 had been made before the convention,
 and the following incumbent officeholders were renominated by acclamation: Secretary of State, Daniel E.
 Storms; Auditor of State, David E.
 Sherrick; Treasurer, Nat. U. Hill; Attorney General, Charles W. Miller;
 State Superintendent, Fasset A. Cotton; Judge of Supreme Court, Second district, Oscar H. Montgomery; Judge
 Supreme Court, Third district, John V.
 Hadley.

Hanly's Nomination.
 The call for nominations for the office of governor was then made, and the names of J. Frank Hanly of Lafayette, W. L. Taylor of Indianapolis, W.
 L. Penfield of Auburn, and Warren
 G. Sayre of Wabash were placed before the convention. Before the result of the first ballot was announced, Madison county announced that it had changed its vote. The apparent effect of this upon the several candidacies was obvious, and other counties began to announce a similar change of vote.
 This created a stampede for Hanly,
 and Messrs. Taylor, Penfield and Sayre withdrew from the race, making the nomination of Mr. Hanly by acclamation.
 The brief speech of Governor Durbin introducing the nominee of the convention to the delegates was well received, and in making his speech of acceptance Mr. Hanly carried the entire convention with him. It was apparent that the impression his few words created upon the delegates was of the most favorable character, and he was cheered to the echo. "Too full for utterance," as he himself expressed it, Mr. Hanly confined his remarks to a few well-chosen words, gracefully thanking the convention for the honor it had conferred upon him and assured them of his appreciation of the same.
 The scene which followed the stampede to Hanly was an extraordinary one. Rarely, if ever, in that historic hall, had there been such a tumult of fire convention with him. It was apparent that the impression his few applause. Delegates fairly went wild in the enthusiasm of the moment and wave after wave of cheering swept over the vast audience. It was some time before the uproar died down sufficiently for the chairman to officially announce the outcome of the contest, Lieutenant Governor.

Congressman Crumpacker at this juncture was given the gavel by the chairman and the Tenth district representative called for nominations for

HAS THE CHARTS

Giving Location of the Buried Fortune.

Alton, Ill., April 28.—Dr. Isaac Moore, a well-known Alton physician, says he has received charts from Texas which indicate the exact spot on the Timmermeier farm in St. Charles county, Missouri, across from Alton, where the long-sought-for buried treasure of Captain John Schmoelzer, former owner of the land, is concealed.

Schmoelzer, an old war captain, owned considerable property in St. Charles county when the war broke out. He left home, but before doing so buried in an old iron chest a large amount of gold. He was killed, and although relations knew the money was hidden somewhere, they never found it. Dr. Moore will go to the place designated at once. An old soldier companion of Schmoelzer, who was given the papers by Schmoelzer before the latter died, sent them to Dr. Moore just before he himself passed away.

Tramps' Dangerous Bed.

Harmon, a farmer near Elwood, Ind., who came to the city as a delegate to the Republican state convention from the Eighth district, blew out the gas on retiring at the Princeton hotel in South Illinois street. He is forty-five years old.

Police Refuse to Accept Explanation.

South Bend, Ind., April 28.—Miss Ethel Warner, formerly an operator in the local telephone exchange, reports that she was thrown from a bridge into the water, twenty feet below, by a heavily bearded man who attacked her, but she managed to reach the bank. The police think it was a case of attempted suicide because she lost her place, and that she changed her mind after striking the water.

Iron Works Destroyed by Fire.

Marion, Ind., April 28.—The Marion Malleable Iron Works was almost totally destroyed by fire yesterday. The factory was erected three years ago at a cost of $300,000. The company is composed of Eastern capitalists. The loss is not stated, though it is believed to be complete, and but partially covered by insurance. The plant covered several acres, and employed, when running to its full capacity, 300 men.

Will Oppose Saloon.

Greenfield, Ind., April 28.—The temperance people of Fortville are preparing to oppose another effort to open a saloon in that town. Charles A. A PROPER RESERVE

Is Maintained by Mr. Knox in Pending Investigations.

Washington, April 28.—Attorney General Knox has transmitted to the house replies to the two resolutions of inquiry introduced by Mr. Williams (Miss.) relative to the trusts. First replying to the question as to whether any criminal prosecutions had been begun by him against persons involved in the decision of the supreme court of the United States in the Northern Securities case as guilty of violating the laws by entering into combinations in restraint of trade, the attorney general says:

ATTORNEY GENERAL KNOX.

"I have the honor to say that no criminal prosecutions have been instituted against the persons referred to in the resolution, and that further than this I do not deem it compatible with the public interest to comply with the resolution.

The other resolutions ask if any investigation ever was made by the department of justice of the so-called anthracite coal trust, consisting of the anthracite coal carrying railroads. The attorney general replies that "several witnesses refused to produce papers and answer questions which the commission considered and ruled to be germane to the inquiry; whereupon, under the direction of the attorney general, proceedings were begun in the United States circuit court in New York for the purpose of compelling the coal companies to produce papers and answer questions.

"The circuit court dismissed the petition of the interstate commerce commission, whereupon an appeal was taken by the United States directly to the supreme court of the United States. This appeal was decided in favor of the power of the committee to compel the production of the testimony, and as I am informed, the commission is about to renew the hearings, which, when completed, will lay before the department of justice, in connection with other evidence it has gathered itself and has been furnished to it by sundry persons, all the available information in relation to the alleged combination.

"Further than this I do not deem it compatible with the public interest to comply with the resolution."

Porto Rico Republicans.

Ponce, Porto Rico, April 28.—The Republican convention met here yesterday and selected as delegates to the Republican national convention Joseph Gomez Brozio and Robert Todd, with Manuel H. Rossey and Pedro Besosa as alternates. The delegates were instructed for President Roosevelt.

Wholesale Hanging Stories Denied.

Warsaw, April 28.—Arrests of anti-Russian Polish agitators in all parts of European Russia indicate the extent of the revolutionary movement. The fate of the prisoners is uncertain, but the leaders of the social democracy declare that stories of wholesale hangings are false. Summary deportations are expected. EXTRAORDINARY ACCOMMODATIONS AT ST. LOUIS FAIR

Splendid Hotel Right Inside Exposition Grounds—Thousands of Rooms at Very Moderate Rates—

Visitors to the World's Fair at St. Louis need not fear either lack of accommodations or extortionate prices. Under the World's Fair Management a huge hotel has been built right inside the Exposition grounds where every comfort and modern convenience at most reasonable rates can be enjoyed by all.

This new departure in world's fair accommodations is called "The Inside Inn" and it is built and furnished upon the same lavish scale which characterizes every feature of the big show. It is three stories high, is 400 feet wide and 800 feet long. It contains spacious reception rooms, reading rooms, parlors and offices and its dining hall and restaurant will seat 2,500 people to a meal at a single sitting. It has 2,357 bedrooms the price of which range from $1.50 to $5.50 per day on the European plan and from $3.00 to $7.00 on the American plan, including daily admission to the exposition, all guests enjoying the same dining-room privileges and service. The Inside Inn is under the direct management and supervision of E. M. Staller, the well-known caterer of Buffalo. This fact alone is sufficient guarantee that the cuisine and service will always be of the very highest order.

Those who remember the heartbreaking weariness of the long journey homeward after a tiring day at the World's Fair at Chicago or the Pan-American at Buffalo will instantly appreciate the extraordinary convenience and comfort afforded by thus residing right within the Exposition grounds. No admission fee other than the first will be needed by guests of The Inside Inn, while the saving effected of car fares, suburban train service, etc., will prove a valuable item to those who study economy.

The enormous capacity of The Inside Inn assures ample accommodations for all—no matter when or in what numbers they come—but those who prefer to secure their rooms in advance may make reservations now for any period during the life of the Fair. A post card addressed to The Inside Inn, Administration Bldg., World's Fair Grounds, St. Louis, Mo., will bring a most interesting booklet, giving every possible detail.

RUSHVILLE, IND., APRIL 28, 1904

LOCAL BREVITIES

The hail storm of Monday did much damage throughout Bartholomew county. The fruit trees were stripped and damaged in the Elizabethtown neighborhood and much damage was done.

Walter A. Kaler, proprietor of the Morristown Sun, has disposed of his interests in Morristown to a Michigan man and will move back to this city. Mr. Kaler will take charge of the editorial department of the Rushville American.

Paul Havens and Miss Sadie Markle, of Alexandria, were quietly married at that place last Sunday afternoon. They will reside at 108 North Harrison street, Alexandria. Mr. Havens has a good position with the Big Four at that place and is a son of Roll Havens, of this city.

Mrs. Linda Hinchman, sister of Albert Williams, recently left her home, in Knightstown, to spend a few months with her daughter, Mrs. Ham, at Salt Lake City. When she returned she found that burglars had pillaged the house. Everything was turned upside down.

Charles Dillman, of Shelbyville, received a cablegram from Honolulu, announcing the death of his son, Alonzo Dillman, of typhoid fever. The message also stated that the body had been cremated and asked for instructions. Mr. Dillman cabled to send the ashes to Shelbyville.

If you want people to know of the advantage of your town, if you want them to locate here, trade here, visit here, live here and die here, get out on the street corners and tell them what a good town we've got. Tell them about our churches, our schools, our public improvements, our substantial business men, our large hearted, public spirited enterprising citizenship, and last but not least, don't forget to tell them about our newspaper.

Greensburg Review: The palm readers, of West Main street, who have been unfortunate during their several days' stay here, owing to the carelessness of the citizens having the future revealed at twenty-five cents a future, left today for Rushville to inform the folks of the Court House town of what the fates hold in store. It is hoped that the youth and age of Rushville will be more generous to the tent dwellers and assist them on life's pathway in order that they may enjoy the flesh pots without hard labor and get bread without using the sweat of the brow.

Will you walk into my parlor said the spider to the fly. I've found a nice secluded spot, where no one ventures nigh. The way into my parlor is on a public street, but the threshold never more is pressed by human feet. A stock of goods is kept within the building where I dwell; The merchant sits behind his desk to keep them guarded well. I spin my web across the room and o'er the dusky wares. I rest in perfect safety, undisturbed by anxious cares; for not a single customer comes in his store and buys—the reason is, he never thought to advertise.—Washington Times.

The grace of a sermon is nothing unless it has a grip.

Ross Wellman shipped a carload of cattle and hogs to Indianapolis yesterday.

Henry McMahan and family, who moved to New Castle about a year ago, have moved back to this city.

One of the sections for the C. & H. & D. new railroad bridge over Big Flat-rock has been placed on the siding at the bridge platform.

Mrs. John Hume, of near Milroy, mother of Elmer Hume, of the Home Furnishing company in this city, is lying at the point of death.

Work horses are reported very scarce in some localities and farmers who are late with their spring plowing are experiencing some difficulty in getting additional horses.

It is said that George W. Young would accept the nomination for Judge of this circuit. Will Sparks has also been prominently mentioned in this connection, both in this and Shelby county.

Connersville Examiner: Miss Harriet Neff was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Williams in East Connersville over night while enroute from a visit to her aunt Mrs. Ashworth, of Rushville, to her home in Nulltown.

A special from Logansport tells of a man who, on being jilted, swore off working for forty-five years. "There must be a lot of broken-hearted fellows around Shelbyville," says the Republican. "Many of them have sworn off for life apparently."

Greensburg Graphic: C. N. Wilson, of Columbus, manager and promoter of the C. G. & R., traction line was here today and stated that he is taking up the right of way between this city and Clarksburg, and that he expects to finance the road in Cincinnati tomorrow.

Shelbyville is having a number of burglaries between 8 and 9 o'clock in the evening, when the families are away. Rushville had more than a dozen cases of that kind of thievery a few weeks ago. Put the two facts together and it looks like the same thieves had moved to our sister city.

"Let a railroad kill one-tenth the people in a wreck that tuberculosis kills in a month in Indiana, and a howl would go up against the carelessness of the railroads from every voter in Indiana," said Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the State Board of Health. More than five hundred people died from tuberculosis—a preventable disease—in the month of March, and there is not a cry against it from the mass of the people. Most of us are willing to let the great white plague decimate humanity, tear us away from our families, make dependents for the State to care for before we spend any money to fight the disease that causes more deaths than all the wars combined.—Shelbyville Republican.

Report of S. S. Convention at Ben Davis.

The Sunday School convention held at the Ben Davis church, in Union township, was largely attended, the house being full, and the interest was very good, and the convention was a decided success.

Mr. E. E. Hungerford gave an outline study of the New Testament from the blackboard, which was very good. Rev. W. W. Sniff gave an excellent address on "The S. S. Text Book," showing the grandeur and beauty of the "Book of Life."

Rev. A. W. Connor in his usual interesting manner gave a splendid talk, showing that a knowledge of the Bible will make a person useful.

Rev. Givens, pastor of the church here, gave several excellent thoughts on the mission of the Sunday School, using a large chart which he had made.

This was one of the best and most helpful meetings that has ever been held in this township. Prof. O. Randall is the township president, and he is making a success. May we have many more such meetings, and let us all plan to attend the county convention to be held at Rushville, June 2d, also the State convention at Richmond in June.

Prof. Craig burned his hand severely Monday afternoon, while performing an experiment in the laboratory.

A commencement week program has been arranged and will include, Merchant of Venice, Junior reception, Alumni banquet, commencement exercises and a baseball game.

The Senior classes met Monday evening at 4:15 in Miss Lacy's room and transacted business of importance. Class colors were selected and other questions were disposed of.

The members of the class in State and Nation frequently get into political discussions while studying the subject and Prof. Craig always smooths it all over by coming to the rescue.

The B Seniors and A Juniors met at Miss Bortha Megee's Monday evening and made preliminary arrangements for the Junior reception, which will be given at Miss Aileen Wilson's on Wednesday, May 25th, 1904.

The Baseball team met in Miss Abbott's room Monday evening after school. Prof. Stewart addressed the team with words of good advice. He also announced that it had been decided by the faculty, for the good of the team, to withdraw the prizes that were to be given to the best players. The boys then discussed the lineup and batting order for Saturday's game with Carthage and adjourned at 4:15 so that the Senior class might hold its called meeting.

Manager Ong, of the baseball team, has received letters from Oakwood H. S., of Lafayette and Middletown High School asking for games. He has written to the M. T. H. S. second team, of Indianapolis, endeavoring to arrange for a game here on Saturday, May 28th, ending the commencement week. He has also tried to arrange the Greensburg game for May 7th, instead of May 21st. District Medical Society Meeting.

The annual convention of the Union District Medical Society is being held at Richmond today. The district includes Union, Wayne, Rush and Franklin counties, in Indiana, and Butler and Preble counties, in Ohio. Dr. L. D. Dillman, of Connersville, is the president of the society and Dr. C. G. Hoaglin, of Milroy, is the Secretary.

Dr. Hoaglin is the only member of the Rush county society who will attend. Dr. J. C. Sexton was on the program to read a paper and several other Rushville doctors were intending to go but were unable to attend on account of the trains running so close together between this city and Richmond over all the roads that they would only have about one hour or so to be at the meeting.

The boy sat on the moon-lit deck,
His head was in a whirl;
His eyes and mouth were full of hair,
And his arms were full of girl.

Serious Stabbing Affray.

Brazil, Ind., April 28.—Alvin Ringo, ex-deputy county sheriff, son of ex-Sheriff Morgan Ringo of Staunton, is in jail here, charged with stabbing with intent to kill Town Marshal Isham Yocum of Staunton. The fight occurred when Yocum stopped a dog fight in which Ringo's dog was engaged. Yocum's condition is serious and physicians believe he will die. Both men were intoxicated at the time.

Natives Were Repulsed.

Sydney, N. S. W., April 28.—While Acting Administrator Robinson, at Gouabari, New Guinea, was endeavoring to induce the chiefs to surrender the murderers of the noted explorer, the Rev. James Chalmers and his companions, 200 canoes attacked the government steamer Morrie England. The canoes were repulsed and the natives lost heavily, but there were many casualties among the whites.

No Ground for His Demand.

New York, April 28.—Former Chief of Police William S. Devery is not entitled to $2,500 back pay from the time he was legislated out of office up to the present, for which amount he recently made a formal demand on the police department. This is the gist of an opinion issued by Corporation Counsel Delaney. The opinion says that Devery has no ground for making the application.

Took Final Tilt.

Washington, April 28.—In the presence of crowded galleries and of almost a full membership, Messrs. Littlefield of Maine and Williams of Mississippi in the house yesterday made speeches intended for the coming presidential campaign. The two speakers were wildly applauded by their respective sides, but there was an absence of personalities such as characterized the clash between Messrs. Drexler and Cockran. Indeed, the best of humor prevailed.

Mr. Littlefield continually taunted the Democrats with the utterances of Mr. Cockran, and by name called on several of the prominent members of that party in the house to answer "yes" or "no" whether they approved Mr. Cockran's views, and whether they intended going before the people on the issue of free trade. He defended the protective tariff system from every point of view.

Mr. Williams, adopting the tactics of Mr. Littlefield, endeavored to force from the Republicans and from Mr. Littlefield in particular, categorical answers to several questions which he deemed pertinent. Mr. Littlefield answered "yes" when asked if he approved of everything in the McKinley administration, which enabled Mr. Williams to remind him that he (Littlefield) and Mr. Williams had stood together in opposition to colonialism.

Mr. Williams asserted that the Republicans were going before the people "on the issue borrowed from the gamblers' table of standing pat." The house sat until late in the afternoon and then recessed until 9 o'clock at night.

When the house reconvened Mr. Burton (Rep., O.) presented the conference report on the emergency river and harbor bill. It was adopted without debate.

In the Senate.

The attention of the senate was devoted to consideration of reports of conference committees, set speeches, passage of bills to which there was little or no objection, and an executive session.

Final conference reports on the sundry civil, general deficiency, postoffice and the military academy appropriation bills were agreed to, practically without opposition. Speeches were made by Mr. Cullom on the conduct of foreign affairs by Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt. By Mr. Teller on the public land question, and by Mr. McLaurin on the old-age pension order and trusts. A resolution authorizing the continuation during the recess of the inquiry into the right of Mr. Smoot to his seat in the senate was favorably considered.

Panama Question Settled.

Washington, April 28.—The conference on the Panama canal bill reached an agreement last night by accepting the first section of the senate bill providing for the payment of $10,000,000 to Panama and the house provision placing the canal zone under the control of the president. No provision was made regarding the bonds for construction.

Republican Meeting.

The Republicans of the Third ward will meet at the assembly room in the court house, Thursday evening, April 28th, at 7:30 o'clock. Every Republican in the ward is invited to attend. Prominent speakers will be present. Come out and hear the issues discussed.

WALTER E. SMITH, Chairman.
